Mackenzie's Online Market Report Available for Preview

MacKenzie Commercial Real Estate Services, LLC launched a new, online version of their quarterly market report today, Tuesday, May 26th. The web-based edition, which was developed in part as a green initiative, helps reduce MacKenzie's environmental impact and offers readers an interactive alternative to the printed version.

Available at www.mackenziecommercial.com/marketreport, the high-tech, digital report is free to download and features user-friendly maps that allow visitors to navigate detailed submarket overviews, including sophisticated graphs, market forecasts, historical trends, and also net absorption, vacancy, construction, and rental rate comparisons for the current quarter, previous quarter and year. Industrial submarket overviews will be available on the site this fall. Additionally, MacKenzie Retail and MacKenzie Capital interfaces are scheduled for debut in the first quarter of 2010.

MacKenzie's regionally recognized report, now also features comprehensive market outlooks for office and industrial markets by Anirban Basu, President of Sage Policy Group. MacKenzie's partnership with Sage Policy Group provides readers with both a broad-scope economic analysis of Maryland's markets and the opportunity to explore individual sub-markets in greater depth.

"Our collaboration with Sage Policy Group combines MacKenzie's comprehensive local market knowledge with Sage Policy's intricate understanding of global and national economic drivers, providing our clients with a thorough and unparalleled perspective," said Gary T. Gill, President and CEO of MacKenzie Commercial Real Estate Services, LLC. "This and the easy-to-use, interactive web format developed by The Canton Group are just two more ways MacKenzie is fueling its reputation for superior research and customer service."
